

Addendum III Engineering Indefinite Delivery Contract Project

Posting Date: February 1, 2019

In published Request for Qualifications (RFQ) for Engineering IDC project, please note the following updates:

1. Q: Based on the information provided at the Pre-Qualification meeting, firms will be selected for the Conveyance Standard Category and firms selected for the Conveyance Complex Category. A firm does not need to possess the expertise for both standard and complex. Once firms are selected, ReWa will allocate work to those contracted firms based on that particular firms expertise. The project approach example for conveyance provided appears to be more suited to the complex side of the conveyance category. Is there an additional project example that can be provided for those firms that are interested in the standard conveyance category?

A: A project example for a less complex project in the conveyance category will not be provided. All firms submitting on the Conveyance category should develop a project approach and team structure based around the provided project example. ReWa will determine where selected firms will be placed within the two respective conveyance sub-categories.

2. Q: Please confirm that the intent of the Environmental Investigation & Permitting category excludes the permitting that is associated with the other categories. Based on the pre-submittal meeting, it is our understanding that the Environmental Investigation & Permitting category is for specialty permitting not included in other categories.

A: Correct

3. Q: For 3.5.h (page 5), the RFQ asks "For Process and Conveyance categories please indicate your proposed Team distribution discussed in Section 3.2.b." 3.2.b requests the type of business structure which does not correlate to 3.5.h. Please clarify what information ReWa is requesting.

A: Paragraph 3.5.h should read as follows: For Process and Conveyance categories please indicate your proposed Team distribution discussed in Section 3.3.b.
